Corona Virus Update

The John Bunyan Boat Operations Management team have decided that, in line with the most recent advice from Public Health England, we must now take action to cancel all cruises, both Public and Charter planned currently planned to take place for the rest of the season, as they do not comply with social distancing guidance.

We are working on a plan to launch a new series of cruises for September and October, which will conform to guidance, and hope to bring you more news on this soon. The team still have a lot of work to do to ensure the health and safety of both customers and volunteers isn't compromised. This is, as ever, our number one priority.

News, when we have it, will appear on our social media, sent out to our mailing list, and of course on our website.

We'd like to take this opportunity to thank you for your support and understanding during this difficult time.

The John Bunyan Boat Operations Management Team.
